ORANGE RIVER – 3-DAY TRIP

Arrival:

Arrive at our base camp, just across the Namibian border, where our camp manager will be there to greet you. After your day of travel, you might enjoy a refreshing swim or a game of volleyball.

Dinner is served at 7 PM. We'll gather around the campfire to get to know each other, and at 8 PM, we'll hold a "packing speech." During this time, we'll teach you how to pack your luggage, beverages, and personal items. It's the perfect opportunity to ask any questions you may have about what to expect on the river. Your friendly guide will be more than happy to ease any concerns!

Day 1:

After an early breakfast, your guide will provide a safety briefing and equipment demonstration, teaching you how to paddle, what to do if you capsize, and how to stay safe in rapids. Before heading onto the river, you can fill your cooler with ice. You'll spend most of the morning drifting and getting comfortable with paddling!

Your first lunch break will be on the riverbanks, surrounded by breathtaking mountains. We'll continue downstream until we find a campsite for the night, where you can sleep under a star-lit sky.

Day 2:

Experience the beauty of waking up in the desert. Each day unfolds with leisurely drifting along the current, taking a swim whenever you like, tossing a frisbee, or simply relaxing. Each night, we'll camp at a spot of our choosing along the riverbanks.

Day 3:

If the river is full and the current is swift, you will resupply at Sjambok and then continue to the collection point at Aussenkehr. If the river isn't full, you won't have a resupply and will only paddle to the collection point at Sjambok. Here, you can hike up to an abandoned fluorspar mine, where you'll be rewarded with stunning views of the Richtersveld and the winding Orange River as it cuts through the desert.

On this final day, you'll be picked up at the endpoint between 2 PM and 4 PM. Congratulations! If you rafted to Sjambok, you'll have covered approximately 45 km, and if you made it to Aussenkehr, around 60 km. We'll drive through the semi-desert back to base camp. After a refreshing swim, you can enjoy some sundowners while the guides prepare dinner. You'll spend the night with us at the camp.

Departure day:

After an unforgettable journey on the river, you're free to head home after breakfast.
